INTRODUCTION

The University of Oxford

The University of Oxford was established during the twelfth century. Its initial primary purpose was to educate candidates for the priesthood. Previously, many such candidates were sent to study in Paris. University teaching in Oxford was originally conducted in Latin. Today, the University's Conferment of Degrees ceremonies are still conducted in Latin. The colleges and halls of the University began as halls of residence for students under the care of a Master and Scholars. Many religious orders established halls of residence in Oxford for canons, monks, and friars. The initial Colleges established in the later thirteenth century were Balliol, Merton, and University.

There are currently 38 Colleges and Six Permanent Private Halls that constitute the Collegiate University in association with Faculties, Departments, and the governing bodies of the University. The governance of a College rests entirely with the fellows who constitute its Governance Body. The governance of a Permanent Private Hall rests ultimately with a religious authority external to Oxford, although each Hall has a local Head of House who oversees all aspects of its daily activities. The titles 'college' and 'hall' occasionally used interchangeably. St Edmund's Hall, and Lady Margaret Hall, for instance, are colleges, whereas Regent's Park College is a Permanent Private Hall! For the sake of convenience in official University communications, the Colleges and Halls are often all referred to as 'colleges'. Other than in the term 'College Advisor,' this handbook mostly uses 'Hall' as the more specific designation.

All the faculties and academic departments of Oxford are organised in one of four Major Divisions: Humanities Division; Mathematical, Physical and Life Sciences Division; Medical Sciences Division; and the Social Sciences Division.

Campion Hall

In 1896, the Society of Jesus established Campion Hall in central Oxford as a residence for Jesuits, especially for those studying in the University. Since its inception it has regularly served as a base in Oxford for visiting scholars who are either on sabbatical leave or undertaking advanced research.

Currently, Campion Hall only admits graduate students, although it retains the ability to admit undergraduates as well. It considers applications for admission to all four Divisions of the University, but by preference mainly admits students for studies in the Humanities and Social Science Divisions. The majority of the Hall's students supplicate for doctoral degrees.

The Hall is also home to Jesuits who are engaged in a variety of ministries in and around Oxford. The Catholic Chaplaincy of the University, which is overseen by the Bishops' Conference of England and Wales, is served by Jesuits who live in the Hall.

As an institution of the University, Campion Hall regularly conducts seminars and classes for the benefit of matriculated students. It also hosts a series of lectures delivered by local and visiting international professors.

The Hall houses its own library which is linked to the University's extensive network of libraries.

Campion Hall Mission Statement

Campion Hall today aims to advance the contribution of learning to a more just society, care for our common home, and deepening the human spirit's relationship with the transcendent. Its educational mission offers formation at postgraduate level to international Jesuit, ministerial, and lay students at the University of Oxford, preparing them for their future mission. Jesuit, ministerial, and lay Fellows collaborate in its research mission in Theology and Spirituality, Ethics and Social Justice, the Humanities, and Holistic Ecology, seeking to advance the common good. The Hall's diverse and international community offers hospitality and spiritual and intellectual fellowship to academics and students throughout the University.

The purpose of Campion Hall is succinctly expressed in its Latin motto, Veritatem facientes in caritate ('Doing the truth in love'), (Ephesians 4:15).

RESIDENCE

All graduate students must reside within 25 miles of Carfax Tower in central Oxford.

Students may apply through their colleges or halls to apply to the Proctors' Office for dispensation from statutory residence, but dispensation is rarely granted and only in exceptional circumstances. A student who does not comply with the statutory residence requirement may not be allowed to enter for examinations.

www.proctors.ox.ac.uk/forms

Part-time and non-matriculated students in Oxford are exempt from the requirement of residence.

TERMS OF REIDENCE

Full-Time graduate students in Campion Hall must be in residence in the Hall for at least six weeks of every term. The number of terms depends on the type of degree programme in which a student is matriculated.

The Proctors may dispense a student of the Hall from part of statutory residence because of illness or when a reasonable cause has been demonstrated. Requests for such dispensations can be made through Campion Hall's administrative offices. Research graduate students may be dispensed from statutory residence if they are obliged to undertake academic work elsewhere. Requests for such dispensations are to be made to the Proctors through a student's University Department.

ACCOMMODATION

Campion Hall usually provides accommodation for its matriculated full-time graduate students, but may not always be able to do so. It is very common in Oxford's colleges and Permanent Private Halls for accommodation to be unavailable. In such circumstances, students may contact the University's Graduate Accommodation Office for help and advice in seeking accommodation.

ACADEMIC DRESS

All students in Oxford are required to wear prescribed academic dress for their matriculation, examinations, and degree ceremony.

Academic dress consists in a black mortar board (or soft black cap), a black academic gown, and sub fusc. The term sub fusc derives from the Latin subfuscus, meaning 'dark brown'. Dark grey is acceptable as sub fusc, but purple is not.

Sub fusc entails:

- A dark suit with dark socks
- OR
- a dark skirt with black stockings
- OR
- Dark trousers accompanied by dark socks or dark hosiery
- A dark coat (an optional item)

Ministers of religion are entitled to wear clerical dress with a mortar board and under an academic gown.

GENERAL CONDUCT IN THE UNIVERSITY AND HALL

The University's Statute XI concerns discipline. It contains a Conduct Code that applies to all members, staff, and students of the University. It explains which actions and types of behaviour are deemed unacceptable by the University. Since Campion Hall is an integral part of the University, it complies with Statute XI which governs general conduct in any context of the University, whether it be in a college, hall, department, or any kind of academic, cultural, social, or sporting activity.

The University's conduct regulations may be found at:

www.admin.ox.ac.uk/statutes/12-011

The Trustees are responsible for the academic, financial, and domestic administration of the Hall in association with the Master, who is the local governing authority. He liaises regularly with the Trustees and with the Fellows of the Senior Common Room (SCR). The SCR normally meets once a term to advise on matters of governance.

Members of the Middle Common Room (MCR) are invited to serve on the Strategy, Library, Student, and Communications Committees to ensure the participation of students in the running of the Hall. LAUDATO SI' RESEARCH INSTITUTE

The Laudato Si' Research Institute is an integral part of Campion Hall. The institute takes its name from the encyclical of Pope Francis, Laudato Si': On Care for Our Common Home (2015). The phrase "Laudato Si'" is medieval Italian. It is the encyclical's opening phrase, addressed to God, and means "Praise be to you ...". It is taken from a canticle by Saint Francis of Assisi. The Institute was established in 2019 as a major work of the Jesuits in Britain.

The Laudato Si' Research Institute conducts cutting-edge multidisciplinary research for societal transformation on the most pressing ecological and social issues of our day. Rooted in theological and philosophical wisdom, it aims to serve higher education, ecclesial communities, and practitioners by fostering dialogue, inspiring innovative research, and promoting change for the common good.

Current staff at LSRI include Dr Celia Deane-Drummond (Director); Dr Rebecca Artinian-Kaiser (Associate Director); Dr Séverine Deneulin (Director of Integral Human Development (PT); Dr Bethany Sollereeder (God and the Book of Nature project).

HALL COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

Any student who wishes to complain about any aspect of Hall life should usually, in the first instance, discuss the matter informally with the relevant member of the Hall's academic administrative or domestic staff, as listed in the sections above. A student with a complaint is always able to discuss it with a college advisor, the Dean, Assistant Master, Senior Tutor, or Middle Common Room President.

Complaints concerning the Master or other Hall Officers should be addressed in the first place to the Assistant Master. A student who is dissatisfied with the way in which a complaint is addressed may always appeal to the Master for a review and final decision.

The Assistant Master is the designated Harassment Officer for Campion Hall to whom concerns regarding bullying or harassment may be referred.

Depending on the nature of a complaint, students may also ask to have it investigated by the Proctors, the Senior Tutor, or by Thames Valley Police.

Students with complaints about their tutors, supervisors, or academic departments may discuss it in the first instance with their College Advisor or the Senior Tutor.

Students also have the opportunity of having complaints referred to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator (www.oiahe.org.uk). It provides independent reviews of student complaints. The Independent Adjudicator is able to deal with complaints concerning academic programmes of research and study, services provided by the University or college or hall; a final decision made by the university or college or hall about a complaint or disciplinary matter. The Independent Adjudicator is not able to consider complaints concerning academic judgement, student employment, or any issue involving legal proceedings.

STUDYING AT CAMPION

The Academic Year

The Academic Year at Oxford is divided into three terms. Within each term, a 'Full Term' of eight weeks is the main teaching period. The weeks of term are generally referred to by their place in a succession of weeks beginning with 1st Week and ending with 8th Week. Each week begins on a Sunday. The week before the start of term is known as 0th Week, and the week after the end of term as 9th Week.

The term dates for the next three academic years are as follows:

2020 - 21

Term	From	To
Michaelmas	11 October	5 December
Hilary	17 January	13 March
Trinity	25 April	19 June

2021 – 22

Term	From	To
Michaelmas	10 October	4 December
Hilary	16 January	12 March
Trinity	24 April	18 June

Future dates can be found on the University website. A number of courses, including the fourth year of the MEng Materials Science, are subject to extended terms. The above webpage also lists dates of extended terms for these courses.

Matriculation

All new students admitted to their first degree at Oxford are required to attend Matriculation. Matriculation is a ceremony that confers membership of the University, and is a requirement for entering into University examinations. Matriculation takes place at the end of the First Week of Michaelmas Term. At the Matriculation Ceremony, the Dean of Degrees will present Campion Hall students to the Vice-Chancellor. Academic Dress is required for Matriculation.

Note: students who have already matriculated for an initial degree do not need to attend again.

Academic Obligations

Course Regulations

It is essential that all students familiarise themselves with the regulations of their courses, as detailed in the Examination Regulations, and the appropriate course handbook. Students are recommended to consult their Department adviser on any arrangements for the study of optional papers.

Postgraduate research students should make sure that they have identified the key milestones that they will be required to pass as part of their course, which may include transfer, confirmation and submission.

Annual Registration

All students must register with the University at the beginning of each academic year. New students will be sent an activation code and log-on details by email once they have returned their University Card Form. Returning Students will be sent a reminder to log-in to the Student Self Service once the registration window opens. Registration must be completed by Friday of 1st Week of term.

All students must ensure that their personal information and contact details are always kept up-to-date on the Student Self Service. It is particularly important that students verify that their name is correct on their Student Record, as it will appear on all University documentation (e.g. degree certificate).

All part-time postgraduates should ensure that they attend all academic commitments for their course, but for them there are no other formal residence requirements.

Mail and Email

Students are required to check their Hall pigeonhole and their University email account on a daily basis during term time, and to check their University email on a weekly basis outside of term. Email contact will only be made through University email accounts. This is the principal means by which official information on academic and other matters is disseminated by the University and the Hall. Emails from academic staff, Hall officers and Hall staff should be read and acted upon promptly.

Students must ensure that their contact details, including their mobile phone number and their address outside of term time, are kept up to date. Any student living in private accommodation instead of Campion Hall accommodation must ensure that they have notified the Hall Secretary of their address.

All students have a pigeonhole on the main Hall site on the first floor. All internal and external mail will be distributed into student's pigeonholes. On leaving Campion Hall students must provide the Hall Secretary a forwarding address for any mail received.

ACADEMIC PROVISION

Senior Tutor/Tutor for Graduates

As Tutor for Graduates, the Senior Tutor is responsible for overall coordination of the Hall provision for postgraduate students of the Hall. The Senior Tutor in conjunction with the Hall Office oversees the admission of students and their progress while on course. The Senior Tutor meets regularly with students, and each is offered an individual review meeting with the Senior Tutor, their College Advisor and the Master (see below).

The Senior Tutor will also contact students at other points in the year if significant problems have been noted in the termly reports for any issues.

College Advisors

Each postgraduate student is matched with a College Advisor who works in a related research field/area. College Advisors monitor the progress of their postgraduates and give guidance and support, but they do not provide supervision. The College Advisor and the Senior Tutor receive copies of the advisee's termly reports and review the reports for any issues or concerns.

If a student is dissatisfied with the College Advisor they have been allocated, they should contact the Senior Tutor.

Master's Reviews

Every postgraduate student is offered the opportunity of an annual meeting with the Senior Tutor and the Master of the Hall, which the College Advisor is also invited to attend. This meeting normally takes place towards the end of Trinity Term and reviews the student's overall progress. The Hall aims to ensure that each student's experience is positive, and all monitoring meetings are intended to be supportive and Constructive.

Graduate Forms (GSO Forms)

Postgraduate Research students who require the signature of the Tutor for Graduates on a GSO form (e.g. transfer, confirmation of status) should bring or email the form to the Admissions Administrator in the first instance. Forms should be submitted to the Admissions Administrator well in advance of the deadline.

Study Skills

Students are encouraged to take advantage of the Study Skills resources provided by the University, the Hall and their department (e.g. in the Course Handbook). The University's Study Skills page includes resources on effective time management, research and library skills, referencing, revision and examinations, and avoiding plagiarism.

All students are responsible for ensuring that they act in accordance with academic good practice. Severe penalties may apply to any student involved in an act which comprises the academic integrity of their work, such as plagiarism or cheating.

Any student experiencing difficulties with their studies is encouraged to contact their departmental supervisor to see advice and support, and their College Advisor if a satisfactory outcome is not reached.

For students whose first language is not English, additional resources are available from the Language Centre to help students develop their academic writing and communications skills. Students may apply to have the cost of the course reimbursed, subject to prior approval.

Library Facilities

Campion Hall's Library is situated on the ground and basement floors in the main building. The Library is open 24 hours a day. The Library comprises several rooms, including the Main Library, the Library Corridor, the Clark Room, the Periodicals Room (and the Stacks Room in the basement). The Main Library and the Clark Room are reading rooms.

In addition to the Hall Library, students also have access to the Bodleian Libraries, which comprise the main University library (the Bodleian) and 28 other libraries including major research libraries and faculty, department and institute libraries. Students must ensure that they comply with all regulations relating to the use of the facilities of the Bodleian Libraries.

Students may also ask permission to use other colleges' libraries e.g. if it would enable them to access a book not held in the Campion Hall library or Bodleian libraries. Colleges are not obliged, but may provide access if it does not impact their own students' use of the library. Students can find information about each college library on the Bodleian website.

Members of the Hall may consult the Heythrop Library through the Senate House Library Catalogue. The Heythrop Library is owned by the Jesuits in Britain and holds over 250,000,000 volumes in Philosophy, Theology, and related disciplines. It is widely regarded as one of the finest collections of theology and philosophy in the UK. The Hall Librarian may be consulted on how books may be borrowed through the University interloan service.

IT Facilities

Students have access to various IT Facilities through both the Hall and the University. This includes:

- A Single Sign ON (SSO) account. This entitles users to access all resources provided by the University IT Services, including the Student Self Service and SOLO Library search tool.
- An email address linked to the SSO account, which will ordinarily take the form of firstname.surname@campion.ox.ac.uk
- Access to Wi-Fi networks, including Eduroam(University-wide) and the Campion Hall Wi-fi network.
- Printing services, including those operated by the Bodleian Library, by Campion Hall, and by the student's department where applicable.

All use of IT facilities within the University is subject to conditions of use. All use of IT facilities in Campion Hall is also subject to an additional IT Policy which supplements the University's conditions of use. These rules are in place to ensure the smooth running of the facilities for the benefit of all users. IT facilities include both the network itself and any computer hardware owned by the Hall or University.

IT facilities are provided primarily for academic use. Non-academic use is permitted only if it does not inconvenience other users. The Hall reserves the right to scan the Hall network traffic to detect misuse of the Hall facilities. Students must take all reasonable steps to ensure that their network use does not cause an excessive amount of traffic on the Hall or the University's internal network or its external network links. The Hall or University may bar access at any time to computers which appear to cause unreasonable consumption of network resources.

The owner of any computer connected to the Hall or University network is responsible for ensuring their security against unauthorised access. Appropriate security measures include setting a secure root/Administrator password, running a virus checker (Sophos is available for free from the University IT Services) and applying updates from software vendors (e.g. Windows Update [Microsoft], Software Update [Apple]) in a timely fashion. The Hall or University may temporarily bar access to any computer or network connection that appears to pose a danger to the security or integrity of any system or network, either within or outside Oxford, or which, through a security breach, may bring disrepute to the Hall or University.

Students will be held personally responsible for the content of their own computers and for any use to which their computers have been put.

Any illegal activity, including breach of copyright law, committed using either Hall IT facilities will be considered a very serious matter and will be referred to the Dean. If a breach is deemed serious enough, the student may be referred to the Proctors. In addition, copyright violations may lead to lawsuits being directed by copyright holders against individual offenders. The Hall reserves the right, in these instances, to disavow any responsibility for the actions leading up to and including the copyright violations.

Student should follow any written, electronic or oral instruction given by the IT Staff relating to use of IT facilities at Campion, even if it is not explicitly covered by these rules. Any student who fails to comply with the IT Policy or any IT related instruction given by the IT Support Staff will be referred to the Dean, who may impose a fine or a temporary or permanent ban on use of the Hall's IT facilities.

If a student feels that any rule or instruction given by IT Staff is unnecessarily restrictive or prevents the use of Hall IT facilities for a bona fide academic purpose, the student should contact the Bursar for clarification. If the student deems the clarification unsatisfactory, then the governing Body should be notified. If the Governing Body decides that the rule or instruction should be amended, then it will instruct the Bursar to amend the rule or withdraw the instruction. Whilst such a matter is under consideration by the Governing Body, the rule or instruction will remain binding.

Disability Support

The Hall can assist any student with a disability with making arrangements for reasonable adjustments to study. The types of support that may be put into place will depend on the student's individual circumstances, but may include arrangements such as: teaching adjustments; adjustments to the built environment (where possible), e.g. ergonomic furniture or specialist lighting; IT equipment or other study technology; Alternative Arrangements for examinations and assessments; or additional library support.

HALL IT POLICY

Campion Hall seeks to maintain the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information about its staff, students, community, visitors, and alumni and its affairs generally. It is extremely important to the Hall to preserve its reputation and the reputation of Oxford University and its integral parts. Compliance with legal and regulatory requirements with respect to this information is fundamental.

- At dinner all are asked to be in place on time, and formal grace is said by the celebrant of the previous Monday Community Mass. During term he then reads a short excerpt from a book, ending 'It follows in the same reading', to which all reply 'Deo Gratias'. At all normal formal dinners, after the reading, two or three members (only) per table distribute plates and place the serving dishes at each end of the tables. All help to clear the tables at the end of each course, only after allowing reasonable time for others to finish.

- Coffee and tea and light refreshments are always available in the Master's Kitchen in the south wing.
- Sunday Dinner at 1 p.m. is a semi-formal event, preceded by pre-prandial drinks in the common room from 12.30 p.m., and followed by coffee in the common room. During term, men wear clerical dress, or jacket or suit and tie; women wear the equivalent; and visitors should be so advised. Guests' names should be entered on the meals list in the servery by 10 a.m. on the previous Friday.
- Formal Guest Nights are held up to twice a term and are an important social event in the Hall, when the community entertains members of the University, including supervisors of our students, and other distinguished guests. The Master formally invites all the guests to these events, and names may be suggested to him by members of the Hall community well in advance.

The programme is:

- 6.15 p.m. Mass in the Campion Chapel (optional)
- 6.45 p.m. Pre-prandial drinks in the entrance hall/Person's Room.
- 7.15 p.m. Welcome in the refectory by the Master and the Hall Grace.

At the end of the meal, when the Master gives a sign, Grace is said and all move into the library for port and fruit, taking their napkins and removing their academic robes. After this, when the Master rises all proceed to the common room where coffee and liqueurs are served.

All male residents are expected, and guests are advised, to wear a jacket or suit and tie, or clerical dress; and women to wear the equivalent. Academic robes are also expected, if applicable, and are removed on leaving the dining room.

A table-plan is drawn up for the dining room, and another for the Library, which a table-plan is drawn up for the dining room, and another for the Library, which should be consulted in advance to see where one is sitting and in whose company.

Fees and Finance

Course Fees

For up to date information about University and Hall fees for Home/EU and Overseas students, please consult the University Website.

The course fee covers academic facilities and other services that are provided for you but does not include accommodation or meals.

Continuation Fee

Postgraduate students who have reached the end of their standard period of fee liability are required to pay a termly Hall continuation charge and may also be required to pay a termly University continuation charge. For any student who commenced their course on or after Michaelmas Term 2018 the charge will be 25% of the University's rate. For the academic year 2020 – 21, this will be £508 per term.

Payment of Fees and Charges

The following procedure applies in respect of all fees and other charges owing to the Hall by students of the Hall, with the exception of the University fee, to which a University procedure applies.

The University procedure is detailed in the University Procedure and non-payment may involve suspension from access to University premises and facilities. Nothing in this procedure affects the right of the Hall to make financial charges for late payment, including interest payments, or the right of the Governing Body at any time to take legal action to recover debt.

If a student has to withdraw from his or her course, he or she must clear all debts to the Hall leaving. No student will be allowed to return to a course after remitting if outstanding debts to the Hall have been paid.

Money Management

Students should take all necessary steps before the start of the academic year to ensure that their basic funding provision is in place. It is strongly recommended that students consult the University's guide to estimated living costs to help them plan how to manage their money.

The University also provides guidance on how to budget effectively.

Support for Students experiencing Financial Difficulties

When the University and the Hall accepts students, it is on the basis that they have considered the cost implications of embarking on a degree and have made arrangements to support themselves financially throughout their University career. However, the Hall understands that students may sometimes experience unexpected financial difficulties due to circumstances which could not have been predicted at the start of their course.

Students who experience financial difficulties should consult the Bursar. The University Student Funding Office can also be contacted to provide advice on student funding and sources of financial help by email.

Decisions on allocations from discretionary funds are made by the Bursar and the Master.
